JANUARY 2017

Global Trends: Paradox of Progress

We are living in paradox - industrial and information age achievements are shaping a world both more dangerous and richer with opportunity. Human choices will determine whether promise or peril prevails.

Global Trends is the Intelligence Community's major assessment of the forces - and choices - shaping the world over the next two decades.

National Intelligence Council's latest edition of the report, Global Trends "Paradox of Progress" was released Jan 9, 2017, exploring trends and scenarios over the next 20 years.
